WEST WARWICK, R.I. (September 26, 2009) - On Saturday, September 26, Internet broadcast history will be made as worldwide mover, Arpin Group, joins forces with ABC6 (WLNE), Cartridge World and National Grid to produce a televised festival focused on saving the environment.

E-Waste Fest 2009 is a folk festival and e-waste recycling collection event which will be broadcast live on <http://www.ewastefest.com> from the Arpin Group campus in West Warwick. This day long campaign will feature musical acts, entertainment and family activities. A percentage of all proceeds earned from electronic waste collections at E-Waste Fest will benefit Save The Bay, a Rhode Island-based non-profit committed to protecting, restoring and exploring Narragansett Bay.

"E-Waste Fest 2009 is meant to draw attention to the ever-growing need for members of society to engage in environmentally smart practices and begin to incorporate alternative energy in their daily lives," said David Arpin, President and CEO of Arpin Group, Inc. "We will provide people in the local community with the opportunity to dispose of their electronic waste while also enjoying a day full of entertainment and information on how to 'go green.'"

The E-Waste Festival is scheduled to run from 8:00 a.m. to 5 p.m. on the Arpin campus located at 99 James P. Murphy Industrial Highway, West Warwick, R.I. However, the e-waste collection and paper-shredding portion of the festival will take place adjacent to the Arpin campus at Coastal International, 2 Szydlo Drive, West Warwick, just off of J.P.
