Chairman's Message/Message du président du conseil

DURING the last year-and-a-half, while I've been chairman, and especially in the past several months, I have come to realize how much of what the Canadian Association of Movers accomplishes is through cooperative effort – by the Board of Directors, operating committees, members and staff. Thank you for everything you've done to make our Association strong.

Every so often, an issue comes up that only an industry association can address. The Government of Canada's Letter of Interest/Request for Proposal (LOI/RFP) is one such issue. Canada's politicians needed to hear about the unfairness of the document, the manner in which it changed the bidding process and both the short- and long-term effects on the industry – and they needed to hear very quickly. Last August, your Association stepped outside the formal lines of communication and addressed these issues with them personally. CAM's role in representing the industry allowed it to present the industry's position as a non-bidder with no risk of being penalized. CAM's letter to the political side of government tipped the balance and moved the process to a second Letter of Interest.

Twice this winter, CAM met with the Government of Canada in Ottawa to represent the Canadian moving industry. CAM will continue to represent the industry's interests. CAM has reached out to all stakeholders in the industry, seeking their guidance and input. The cooperation we've experienced in this exercise has been overwhelming.

The government's business is a significant fraction of what our industry does in the course of the year. For some members, it is a major reason they are in business, and the operational and financial concerns do affect the success of their businesses.

As a small businessman, I am solicited every day by associations representing one phase of my business or another. I have to make decisions as to whom I offer my support and to whom I deny it. We have to make our choices based on the best interests of our companies, our customers and the future of our businesses. Each factor requires a commitment in terms of money and time.

The Canadian Association of Movers is at the top of my list. CAM's efforts affect the way in which I relate to my industry partners and my customers. CAM is working hard to improve my bottom line and those of movers across the country.

I see the benefits of membership very clearly and LORS de la dernière année et demie de mon mandat comme président du conseil et spécialement dans les derniers mois, j'ai été à même de réaliser tout ce que l'Association Canadienne des Déménageurs a accompli grâce à un effort de coopération – entre le conseil d'administration, les différents comités opérationnels, les membres et les employés. Merci pour tout ce que vous avez fait afin de fortifier notre Association.

De temps en temps, une problématique survient que seule une association d'affaires peut résoudre. La lettre d'intérêt/Demande de Proposition (LOI/DDP) du gouvernement du Canada est un exemple. Les politiciens canadiens devaient être informés de l'iniquité de ce document, de la manière dont le processus d'appel d'offres était modifié et des impacts sur l'industrie à court et à long terme – et il fallait que ce soit fait très rapidement. Au mois d'août dernier, votre association a outrepassé les lignes de communication officielles et a abordé ces problématiques avec eux personnellement. Le rôle de l'ACD comme représentant de l'industrie lui permettait de présenter la position de l'industrie à titre d'entité non soumissionnaire et ce, sans risque pour elle d'être pénalisée. La lettre de l'ACD adressée au secteur politique du gouvernement a fait pencher la balance et a modifié le cours du processus pour en arriver à une seconde Lettre d'Intérêt.

À deux occasions cet hiver, l'ACD a rencontré le Gouvernement du Canada à Ottawa pour représenter l'industrie canadienne du déménagement. L'ACD continuera de représenter les intérêts de l'industrie. L'ACD a établi des liens avec tous les intervenants de l'industrie, recherchant leurs conseils et leurs avis. La coopération dont nous avons bénéficié lors de cet exercice a été exceptionnelle.

Le chiffre d'affaires du secteur gouvernemental est une portion significative de ce que notre industrie réalise dans une année. Pour certains membres, c'est une des raisons majeures pour être en affaires et, conséquemment, les préoccupations d'ordre opérationnel et financier affectent directement le succès de leur entreprise.

Comme modeste homme d'affaires, je suis sollicité quotidiennement par des associations représentant un des secteurs de mon entreprise. Je dois décider à qui j'offre mon support et à qui je dois le refuser. Nous devons faire nos choix en nous basant sur les meilleurs intérêts de nos compagnies, de nos clients et du futur de nos entreprises. Chacun de ces facteurs exige un engagement en termes d'argent et de temps.

President's Message/Message du président

I HAVE WRITTEN more than 20 of these messages and the message always has been that there is value in membership in the Canadian Association of Movers. Usually the value is in the intangibles – networking, conferences, consumer services and government relations.

With this message, I make a transition to the more tangible – items that you can see impact your businesses and on your bottom lines.

In the last few months, more time and effort than ever has been spent by CAM's chairman, directors, committees and staff in trying to influence the Government of Canada's LOI/RFP for moving government employees. As an Association, we have found our voice and realized that CAM truly does represent movers across Canada. The Government of Canada decided that CAM may have something useful to contribute and has therefore included us in their meetings – and, much to our amazement, it appears to be listening to us. At this juncture, we are not sure that government will do anything in response to the concerns we've expressed, but they did hear us.

If your business is involved in the moving of the Government's employees, you may very well see the results of this effort in evidence on your bottom line.

In another area entirely, we're pleased to announce that we have forged a new relationship with the Canadian Federation of Independent Business. With 109,000 members, the CFIB represents small business in Canada. It has substantial clout in its dealings with government in terms of improving regulations and the tax environment for small business. It provides small businesses with excellent credit card processing rates, reduced bank charges, relationships with business-service suppliers and many forms of training and consulting services. There is a significant reduction in the CFIB membership rate for CAM members – sufficient in some cases to offset the CAM membership fee. But more importantly, the benefits of CFIB membership will improve the way in which you manage your businesses.

It's time for all reputable movers in Canada to recognize the value of their national trade Association and become members.

John Levi
John Levi, President

J'AI ÉCRIT plus de 20 messages de ce genre et le message fut toujours qu'il est avantageux d'être membre de l'ACD. Habituellement, cette valeur se retrouve dans les éléments intangibles – réseautage, conférences, services au consommateur et relations gouvernementales.

Dans le présent message, j'effectue une transition vers les éléments plus tangibles – ceux dont vous réalisez l'impact sur vos entreprises et sur vos résultats d'affaires.

Au cours des derniers mois, plus de temps et d'effort que jamais ont été mis par le président du conseil de l'ACD, ses directeurs, ses comités et son personnel afin de tenter d'influencer la LOI/DDP du Gouvernement du Canada relativement au déménagement des employés gouvernementaux. Comme association, nous avons trouvé notre voix et réalisé que l'ACD représente vraiment les déménageurs à travers le Canada. Le Gouvernement du Canada a décidé que l'ACD peut contribuer avec des éléments utiles et, par conséquent, nous a inclus dans leurs réunions – et, à notre plus grand étonnement, il semble qu'il soit à notre écoute. À ce stade, nous ne sommes pas certains que le gouvernement agira d'une quelconque manière en réponse aux préoccupations que nous avons exprimées, mais ils nous ont bien entendus.

Si votre entreprise est impliquée dans le déménagement des employés gouvernementaux, vous pouvez très facilement constater les bénéfices de cet effort sur vos résultats d'entreprise.

Dans un tout autre volet, nous sommes heureux d'annoncer que nous avons développé une nouvelle relation d'affaires avec la Fédération Canadienne des Entreprises Indépendantes. Avec plus de 109,000 membres, la FCEI représente les PME au Canada. Elle a une influence marquée au niveau de ses relations avec le Gouvernement au niveau de l'amélioration des réglementations et de l'environnement fiscal pour les PME. Elle offre aux PME d'excellents tarifs de traitement de cartes de crédit, des frais bancaires réduits, des relations d'affaires avec des fournisseurs de services aux entreprises ainsi que plusieurs types de formation et de services de consultation. Les membres de l'ACD bénéficient d'une réduction marquée sur le tarif d'adhésion à la FCEI – suffisante dans certains cas pour couvrir le coût d'adhésion à l'ACD. Mais encore plus important, les bénéfices d'être membre de la FCEI amélioreront la façon dont vous gérez vos entreprises.

Il est temps pour tous les déménageurs reconnus au Canada de reconnaître la valeur de leur association d'affaires nationale et d'en devenir membre.

Country Wide Moving: Hands-On Service from a Fourth-Generation Mover

By Kim Biggar

Country Wide's
diversification means that it can keep employees and owneroperators busy throughout the year, even in the off season.

BASED IN SASKATOON, SASK., Country Wide Moving has been shaped by its location. Its early history, its services and its main current challenge all reflect the influence of its location.

It was 1952, for example, before Country Wide's predecessor company purchased its first truck. Until then, from the 1920s – when current president Cam Carswell's great grandfather, Stephen Carswell, established a cartage company in Melfort, Sask. – the company relied on horses, wagons and sleighs for deliveries and local moves. As Carswell points out, the company's location in the northern prairies was behind its late transition to moving by truck.

Stephen's son, George – Cam's grandfather – took over the company in 1945. Cam's uncle, Vern, joined his father in the mid-sixties, and bought the company in 1970, changing its name at that time to Carswell Moving & Storage. Cam had, meanwhile, begun working in 1969 for the company after school and during summer breaks, becoming the fourth generation in his family to work in the moving industry.

Carswell Moving joined Allied Van Lines in 1973, and put its first tractor trailer on the road, with Cam behind the wheel. In the 1980s, the company expanded into Prince Albert and Saskatoon. Cam and partner Jim Nellis purchased the Saskatoon operation in 1993 from Vern, and Country Wide Moving & Storage was born. Country Wide remained an Allied agent, and Cam became active in the Canadian Allied Agents Association. (He completed a three-year term as president of that association in 2012.) When Jim retired in 2002, long-time employee Bill Beaudry became a junior partner and operations manager.

■ A Challenging Environment

Nowadays, while Saskatchewan – Saskatoon, in particular – is in the midst of an economic boom, Country Wide is once again affected by its geographical location. The growing economy has led to a lot of inbound moves for the province – and an explosion in international business, says Cam – but the news is not all good for movers there. Country Wide is challenged to meet demand by a labour force that can choose from all kinds of employment opportunities, and isn't largely attracted to the moving industry. "We could be doing a lot more work," notes Cam, "if we could get more people on board." The competitive labour marketplace compels the company to be constantly recruiting within the province, mainly through word-of-mouth promotion done by its drivers.

As a sign of the times, Country Wide pulled out of the cross-border-moves business three years ago, thanks to a driver shortage caused by Canada's strong dollar. Drivers who had been benefitting from the exchange differential on their U.S.-

dollar pay chose to stay closer to home when that advantage came to an end.

Still, Country Wide's diversification means that it can keep employees and owner-operators busy throughout the year, even in the off season. It supplements long-distance moves, its number-one source of revenue, with commercial moving and special-products distribution. So, while recruitment may be a challenge these days, the company is managing to retain its team: Some employees have been with Country Wide for as long as 20 years.

■ Out-of-the-Ordinary Moves

At one time on the prairies, grain elevators located in a network within 10 miles of one another each required an agent on site. Country Wide had work in transferring agents from one grain-elevator company house to another. With the demise of the elevators – they've been replaced by concrete inland terminals – that business has disappeared.

To make deliveries to one northern mining community that was not accessible by road, Country Wide drove to northern Manitoba, where it loaded the truck onto a train that serviced the remote community. After the delivery, it loaded the truck back on the train for the return trip. Now that a road exists to the area, moves have become more straightforward.

Northern Saskatchewan is home to several remote First Nations reserves serviced by the RCMP. Because the reserves are not accessible by road – at least, not year round – Country Wide is required to either charter planes to move RCMP officers' household goods or drive over ice roads when and where possible.

Generally, a two-man packing crew is flown to the reserve, where they spend two days preparing for the move. They then fly with the goods to their destination, whether it's another remote location or a central location from which the goods will be moved over the road. Shipments that are destined for the far north are transported by truck to Edmonton or Ottawa for furtherance by air.

In acquiring this kind of work, Country Wide's location has again played an important role.

Location, though, is clearly not the only factor at play in Country Wide's business. Care and expertise are behind its repeat work for one customer who, says Cam, "has so much expensive paraphernalia, we pack one item per carton." The company's approach to her moves: "When we deliver, we unpack each item in the moving van, carry it in and place it where directed, whether that is on a shelf or 20 feet up on a ledge. She has two 500-pound granite carvings that we had to place on a 10-foot-high ledge."

■ Hands-On Service

Each of Country Wide's customers is contacted personally by either president Cam Carswell or operations manager Bill Beaudry; Beaudry calls pre-move to discuss arrangements, Carswell post-move for feedback and follow-up. The same degree of service sees Carswell resolve any customer complaints directly. This hands-on service has helped the company to win numerous sales and customer-satisfaction awards over the years. It has also meant that Carswell receives calls from people whose parents his company moved 30 to 40 years ago, looking for help with their own moves. Testimonials show that the good-service attitude extends beyond management to the moving staff.

Carswell believes in providing good service not only to his own customers, but also to all Canadian consumers of moving services. He is an active member of CAM for that reason. A board member for the last seven years, Carswell says the association is having an impact: Consumers are getting the message that there are good movers and bad movers, and that it's important to choose a good one. ■

Country Wide Moving: Service personnalisé de la 4^{ième} génération d'un déménageur

Par Kim Biggar

La diversification
de Country Wide
fait qu'elle fournit
du travail à ses employés et ses exploitants-propriétaires
à l'année longue, même au cours
de la saison morte.

BASÉE À SASKATOON, SASK., Country Wide Moving s'est développée en raison de sa localisation. Le début de son histoire, ses services et son plus important défi reflètent tous l'influence de son emplacement.

En fait, ce n'est qu'en 1952 que la compagnie ayant précédé Country Wide a acquis son premier camion. Jusque là, à partir des années 1920 – alors que Stephen Carswell, l'arrière-grand-père du président actuel, Cam Carswell, a établi une compagnie de transport à Melfort, Sask. – la compagnie n'utilisait que des chevaux, des wagons et des traîneaux pour les livraisons et les déménagements locaux. Comme le souligne M. Carswell, la localisation de la compagnie dans le nord des Prairies était la raison motivant sa transition tardive vers les déménagements par camion.

Le fils de Stephen, George – le grand-père de Cam – a pris la gestion de la compagnie en 1945. L'oncle de Cam, Vern, s'est joint à son père au milieu des années soixante et acheta la compagnie en 1970, modifiant alors son nom à Carswell Moving & Storage. Cam avait cependant commencé à travailler pour la compagnie en 1969, après l'école et lors des vacances estivales, devenant ainsi la quatrième génération de sa famille à travailler dans l'industrie du déménagement.

Carswell Moving s'est jointe à Allied Van Lines en 1973 et a mis en service un premier tracteur semi-remorque avec Cam derrière le volant. Dans les années 1980, la compagnie a étendu ses opérations à Prince Albert et Saskatoon. Cam et son partenaire, Jim Nellis, ont acquis de Vern l'exploitation de Saskatoon en 1993 et Country Wide Moving & Storage était alors née. Country Wide est demeurée agent de Allied et Cam est devenu actif dans l'association canadienne des agents Allied. (Il a complété un mandat de trois ans comme président de cette association en 2012.) Lorsque Jim s'est retiré en 2002, un employé de longue date, Bill Beaudry, est devenu un associé ainsi que le directeur des opérations.

■ Un environnement plein de défis

Aujourd'hui, alors que la Saskatchewan – en particulier Saskatoon – est au cœur d'un vaste essor économique, Country Wide est une fois de plus influencée par son emplacement géographique. L'économie croissante a généré une multitude de déménagements vers la province – et une explosion dans le commerce international, mentionne Cam – mais ce ne sont pas seulement de bonnes nouvelles pour les déménageurs de ce secteur. Country Wide fait face au défi de répondre adéquatement à la demande malgré une main-d'œuvre qui est à même de choisir parmi toutes sortes d'opportunités d'emploi et qui n'est pas grandement attirée par l'industrie du déménagement. « Nous pourrions effectuer encore plus de travail » note Cam, « si nous pouvions attirer plus de monde avec nous. » Le marché du travail compétitif contraint la compagnie à effectuer un recrutement constant dans la province, principalement par le biais d'une promotion bouche à oreille effectuée par ses chauffeurs.

Signe des temps, Country Wide s'est retirée du commerce des déménagements transfrontaliers il y a trois ans, en raison d'une pénurie de chauffeurs découlant de la force du dollar canadien. Les chauffeurs qui bénéficiaient auparavant d'un écart de conversion avantageux sur leur salaire en dollar américain ont alors choisi de demeurer plus près de la maison lorsque cet avantage est disparu.

Enfin, la diversification de Country Wide fait qu'elle fournit du travail à ses employés et ses exploitants-proprétaires à l'année longue, même au cours de la saison morte. Elle ajoute aux déménagements éloignés, sa source première de revenus, les déménagements commerciaux et la distribution de produits spécifiques. Alors, bien que le recrutement puisse être un défi de nos jours, la compagnie est gérée de façon à maintenir son équipe : certains employés sont avec Country Wide depuis plus de 20 ans.

■ Des déménagements hors de l'ordinaire

Il fut un temps, dans les prairies, où les élévateurs à grains situés dans un rayon de 10 miles, l'un de l'autre, requéraient d'avoir un agent en place. Country Wide travaillait alors à transférer les agents d'une compagnie d'élévateurs à grains à une autre. Avec la disparition des élévateurs – ils furent remplacés par des terminaux céréaliers en béton – ce commerce a disparu.

Afin d'effectuer des livraisons dans une communauté minière nordique non accessible par la route, Country Wide conduisait au nord du Manitoba où il chargeait le camion sur un train effectuant le service vers cette communauté éloignée. Après la livraison, le camion était replacé sur le train pour le retour. Maintenant qu'il y a une route pour ce secteur, les déménagements sont devenus plus conventionnels.

Le nord de la Saskatchewan est le site de plusieurs réserves des Premières nations desservies par la GRC. Puisque les réserves ne sont pas accessibles par la route à certaines périodes de l'année, on demande à Country Wide de nolisier des avions pour déménager les biens ménagers des officiers de la GRC ou de conduire sur des routes glacées lorsque c'est possible.

Habituellement, une équipe de deux emballeurs s'envole jusqu'à la réserve où, pendant deux jours, ils se préparent au déménagement. Par la suite, ils s'envolent avec les biens en direction de leur destination, qu'il s'agisse d'un autre emplacement éloigné ou d'un emplacement central à partir duquel les biens seront déménagés par la route. Les expéditions à destination de la région nordique éloignée sont transportées par camion à Edmonton ou à Ottawa pour leur transport subséquent par air.

La localisation de Country Wide a encore joué un rôle important dans l'obtention de ce type de travail.

Cependant, l'emplacement n'est pas le seul facteur influençant les opérations de Country Wide. Tel que le mentionne Cam, « Le soin et l'expertise sont les raisons lui permettant de travailler répétitivement pour un client qui possède des équipements si dispendieux que nous emballons un item par boîte. »

L'approche de la compagnie envers ces déménagements : « Lorsque nous effectuons la livraison, nous déballons chaque item dans le camion, puis le transportons et le déposons à l'endroit désigné, que ce soit sur une étagère ou sur une corniche située à 20 pieds de hauteur. Ce client avait deux sculptures de granit de 500 livres chacune qu'il fallait placer sur une corniche haute de 10 pieds. »

■ Service personnalisé

Chaque client de Country Wide est contacté personnellement par le président, Cam Carswell, ou le directeur des opérations, Bill Beaudry; ce dernier communique avant le déménagement pour discuter des arrangements tandis que M. Carswell communique après le déménagement pour obtenir des commentaires ainsi que pour le suivi. Le même niveau de service s'applique lorsque M. Carswell résout directement toute plainte d'un client. Avec les années, ce service personnalisé a permis à la compagnie de gagner de nombreuses récompenses relatives aux ventes et à la satisfaction du client. Ce service personnalisé a également fait que Carswell reçoit même des appels de personnes dont les parents ont été déménagés par sa compagnie, il y a 30 ou 40 ans, et qui recherchent de l'aide pour leur propre déménagement. Des témoignages indiquent bien que l'attitude de la compagnie visant à offrir un haut niveau de service s'étend au-delà de la direction jusqu'aux équipes de déménagement.

M. Carswell croit en la pertinence d'offrir un bon service non seulement à ses propres clients, mais aussi à tous les consommateurs canadiens de services de déménagement. Il est un membre actif de l'ACD pour cette raison. À titre de directeur du conseil d'administration lors des sept dernières années, M. Carswell mentionne que l'association a un impact important : les consommateurs reçoivent le message qu'il y a de bons déménageurs et de mauvais déménageurs et qu'il est important d'en choisir un bon. ■

Cross-Border Moving — A Good Source of Business

By Carol Davis

For CAM members that have the necessary capabilities, pursuing this segment of our market can be good business.

MOVING CUSTOMERS across the border to or from the United States can be an integral part of a moving company's mix of business, but it does require some expertise and much attention to detail. As CAM members know, your association is doing its utmost to convince consumers that, when it comes to choosing a mover, the old adage "Caveat emptor" or "Let the Buyer Beware" should be taken very seriously. This warning applies to all types of moves, but especially to cross-border moves, which require specific licensing, regulatory compliance and specialized expertise.

For example, to meet US Customs and Border Protection requirements, a carrier must have an International Carrier bond on file with that agency. Most van line-affiliated moving companies use their van line bond. A mover must also adhere to the ACE program for the advance filing of an electronic manifest, have proper insurance coverage, and be in compliance with assorted Federal Motor Carrier and DOT regulations.

In addition to being legally permitted to transport shipments across the Canada/US border, it is also the mover's responsibility to properly counsel its customers on what is required on their part, including making sure that work visas, passports and customs documentation is in order. A recent US customs change requires that a person entering the US print his or her own I94 form; Customs no longer prints and affixes the form to the individual's passport. Anyone who selects a mover for a cross-border move based just on a low price does so at his own peril; a mover sourced over the Internet, for example, might not meet the above requirements.

However, for CAM members that have the necessary capabilities, pursuing this segment of our market can be good business. While it is somewhat difficult to obtain accurate figures about the number of people moving across the Canada/US border for work, study or retirement, the latest data available through the US Census Bureau, based on its 2011 survey, reveals that approximately 20,000 Canadians moved in that year to the US on a permanent or temporary (seasonal) basis. This number has remained fairly consistent since 2008, when the worldwide recession began. Prior to this period, the annual number was closer to 37,000. Keep in mind that this is the number of individuals, including children, who moved. According to consulting firm NK Pedersen & Associates, 5,840 moves to the US were collectively reported in 2012 by the major Canadian van lines that report their numbers to this service. In 2011, the reported number was 5,822.

The lure of living in the US is still a strong one for some Canadians, but, for those wanting to work in the US, the current economic climate is less welcoming than it has been in the past. That trend may change over the next few years if the US economy regains some of its traditional strength. Although there are fewer Canadians securing jobs in the US, there is an ever-increasing number of people who have taken advantage of outstanding real estate opportunities to secure a second home as a seasonal or part-time residence.

Other potential customers are people able to take advantage of a White House initiative called "Startup America," through which the US is actively trying to attract entrepreneurs who will create jobs for Americans. The EB5 immigrant investor visa is being enhanced to streamline the process for these individuals. A similar program, designed to encourage wealthy individuals to invest in the US, offers permanent green cards to those who invest at least $500,000 for a minimum of two years in government-approved regional centres. The investors are not required to live in the regional centre in which they're investing; they can live anywhere in the US.

On the other side of the coin, readers might be surprised to learn that Canada approved 34,185 visas for US residents in 2011. These numbers do not include individuals brought in from other countries under the temporary foreign worker program. According to some published reports, one of the reasons for the influx of Americans is jobs, especially in the resource industry. With all-time high unemployment in the US, many skilled professionals, including engineers and skilled tradespeople, decided to take advantage of Canada's labour shortage in these areas and made the move northbound.

The bottom line for CAM members is that cross-border moving can increase your profitability. Just be sure that you know what you are doing!

Le déménagement transfrontalier — un bon créneau d'affaires

Par Carol Davis

Pour les membres de l'ACD qui ont les capacités requises, leur présence dans ce segment de marché peut être une bonne source de revenus.

LE DÉMÉNAGEMENT DE CLIENTS au-delà de la frontière des États-Unis, dans un sens ou dans l'autre, peut être une partie intégrale de la composition de la clientèle d'une compagnie de déménagement, mais elle requiert une certaine expertise et une stricte attention aux détails. Comme le savent les membres de l'ACD, votre association fait tout son possible pour convaincre les consommateurs que, lorsque vient le temps de sélectionner un déménageur, le vieil adage « au risque de l'acheteur » ou « que l'acheteur prenne garde » devrait être pris très au sérieux. Cet avertissement s'applique à tous les types de déménagement, mais tout spécialement aux déménagements transfrontaliers, lesquels exigent une licence spécifique, une stricte conformité aux réglementations et une expertise spécialisée.

Par exemple, afin de répondre aux exigences du Bureau des douanes et de la protection des frontières des États-Unis, un transporteur doit détenir une assurance caution de transporteur international déposée auprès cette agence. La majorité des compagnies de déménagement affiliées à des entreprises de transport routier utilisent l'assurance caution de leur entreprise de transport. Un déménageur doit aussi adhérer au programme ACE relatif à la transmission de manifestes électroniques dans les délais prescrits, détenir une couverture d'assurance appropriée et être en conformité avec les différentes réglementations de la Federal Motor Carrier Administration et du Département des Transports (DOT) américain.

En plus d'être légalement autorisé à effectuer des expéditions au-delà de la frontière Canada/États-Unis, il est également de la responsabilité du déménageur de conseiller adéquatement ses clients sur ce qui est requis de leur part, incluant de s'assurer que leurs visas de travail, passeports, et documentations douanières sont conformes. Un récent changement des douanes américaines exige qu'une personne entrant aux États-Unis imprime son propre formulaire I94; le service des douanes n'imprime plus et n'ajoute plus le formulaire au passeport de l'individu. Quiconque sélectionne un déménageur pour un déménagement transfrontalier en se basant uniquement sur un bas prix le fait à ses propres risques; un déménageur sélectionné par l'internet, par exemple, pourrait ne pas rencontrer les exigences décrites ci-haut.

Cependant, bien qu'il soit quelque peu difficile d'obtenir des figures précises quant au nombre de personnes déménageant au-delà de la frontière Canada/États-Unis pour le travail, les études ou la retraite, les plus récentes données disponibles auprès du Bureau du recensement américain, basées sur son étude de 2011, révèlent qu'environ 20 000 Canadiens ont déménagé aux États-Unis, au cours de cette année, sur une base permanente ou temporaire (saisonnnière). Ce nombre est demeuré relativement constant depuis 2008, au début de la récession mondiale. Avant cette période, le nombre annuel se situait plus près de 37 000. Gardez à l'esprit qu'il s'agit du nombre d'individus, incluant les enfants, ayant déménagé. Selon la firme de consultation NK

Pedersen & Associates, 5 840 déménagements vers les États-Unis ont été rapportés en 2012 par les principaux transporteurs routiers canadiens qui font état de leurs chiffres à ce service. En 2011, le nombre rapporté était 5 822.

L'attrait de vivre aux États-Unis est encore très fort auprès de certains canadiens mais, pour ceux désirant travailler aux États-Unis, le climat économique actuel s'avère être moins accueillant qu'il ne l'a été par le passé. Cette tendance pourrait changer au cours des prochaines années si l'économie américaine récupère une partie de sa force traditionnelle. Bien qu'il y ait de moins en moins de canadiens bénéficiant de travail aux États-Unis, il y a un nombre accru de personnes ayant profité d'excellentes opportunités immobilières afin de se procurer une seconde résidence, saisonnière ou à temps partiel.

D'autres clients potentiels pour des déménagements du Canada aux

États-Unis sont les personnes pouvant bénéficier d'une initiative de la Maison Blanche dénommée « Startup America » par laquelle les États-Unis tentent activement d'attirer des entrepreneurs qui créeront des emplois à l'intention des américains. Le visa d'immigrant à titre d'investisseur EB5 a été amélioré afin de simplifier le processus pour ces individus. Un programme similaire, développé afin d'encourager les particuliers fortunés à investir aux États-Unis, offre des cartes vertes permanentes à ceux qui investissent au moins 500 000$ pour un minimum de deux ans dans des centres régionaux reconnus par le gouvernement. Les investisseurs n'ont pas à demeurer dans le centre régional où ils investissent; ils peuvent résider où que ce soit aux États-Unis.

D'un autre côté, les lecteurs pourraient être surpris d'apprendre que le Canada a approuvé 34 185 visas pour des résidents américains en 2011. Ce nombre n'inclut pas les individus provenant d'autres pays sous le couvert du programme des travailleurs étrangers temporaires. Selon certains rapports publiés, l'une des raisons supportant cet afflux d'américains est reliée aux emplois, spécialement dans l'industrie des ressources. Avec le niveau élevé historique de chômage aux États-Unis, plusieurs professionnels doués, incluant des ingénieurs et des travailleurs spécialisés compétents, ont décidé de bénéficier du manque de main-d'œuvre dans ces secteurs au Canada et ont déménagé en direction nord.

Ce qui est à retenir pour les membres de l'ACD, c'est que le déménagement transfrontalier peut accroître votre profitabilité. Assurez-vous seulement de bien savoir ce que vous faites!

PROUD TO BE A LONG-DISTANCE ASSOCIATE MEMBER OF THE CANADIAN ASSOCIATION OF MOVERS

CAM's Working Committees – Moving CAM's Agenda Forward

CAM's working committees have generated a stream of changes over the last few years that have made it the strong trade Association that it is today.

THE Canadian Association of Movers has been evolving from a collection of moving companies and suppliers to the industry into a true entity as “Canada’s trade association for the moving industry”. This transition into the voice of the industry has come about through the hard work and dedication of those movers and suppliers who volunteer their time and energy to achieve the goals of the Association. But who are these people? What are they doing on behalf of the membership? How are these goals set?

CAM is managed by a board of directors which, according to CAM by-laws, have to be CAM members. These directors are elected by members at CAM’s annual general meeting (AGM). They represent CAM’s members across Canada and serve without remuneration. An executive committee consisting of five directors elected from the board oversees the affairs of the association. Appointments are staggered such that, at each AGM, about half of the directors retire from office and new ones are elected. These directors administer CAM’s finances, decide on CAM’s policies and set CAM’s direction into the future.

CAM’s members are currently represented in the Association by an executive committee that consists of:

- Ted LeLacheur, Western Moving & Storage – Chairman
- Tom Finlay, AMJ Campbell Van Lines, Vancouver – Vice Chairman
- Perry Thorne, Greg and Sons Moving and Storage – Treasurer
- David Ogilvy, Ogilvy & Ogilvy Insurance Brokers – Secretary
- Tom Filgiano, Meldrum the Mover Inc – Past Chairman

The directors-at-large are:

- Jim Carney, Rawlinson Moving & Storage Ltd.
- Cam Carswell, Country Wide Moving
- Kirsten Flynn, Premiere International
- Doug Kellough, Salmon’s Transfer Ltd.
- Terry Krulicki, Globe Moving/Premiere Van Lines
- Milton Letkeman, Jay’s Moving & Storage Ltd.
- James Marshall, East Coast Moving & Warehousing
- Steven Young, Household Movers & Shippers Limited.

The bylaws also allow for the appointment of a president, who is also a director, to carry out the day-to-day work of the Association as prescribed by the directors. John Levi has been serving in this role for 11 years.

In 2009, CAM’s transition into a force majeure was well underway. Because the directors were involved in a great variety of activities on a lot of fronts, they decided that working committees were needed to better manage their projects and engage more of CAM’s members in them. CAM’s board of directors established four working committees and, during the past four years, these committees, plus a few new ones, have identified emerging issues, formulated policies and developed strategies for change. Each committee is chaired by a director who reports back to the board of directors on the committee's activities and proposals. Each year, at CAM's annual general meeting, the directors report on their functional and committee activities, accomplishments and challenges to the membership. The president also participates in each committee to help carry out the decisions.

Here's a profile of each of the committees that are working today – who currently serves on it and what they've been doing on behalf of the Association and its members.

- Doug Kellough, Salmon's Transfer Ltd. – Co-chair

- Leonard Hoyt, Hoyt's International
- James Marshall, East Coast Moving & Warehousing
- John Rausch, Allied Van Lines Canada

One of the original four committees struck in 2009, the conference committee was established to plan CAM's annual conference – establish the theme, develop the program, engage the speakers and promote the event. Based on the positive feedback from attendees each year, the committee seems to be hitting its mark in putting together exceptional programs. This year, CAM's conference, whose theme is Bringing the World Together, will be held in Vancouver on October 4-6, 2013, in conjunction with the International Association of Movers's annual meeting on October 7-10, 2013. More information about this unique event can be found in this issue.

■ International Committee

- Kirsten Flynn, Premiere International – Chair
- Nate Edward, Starline Overseas Moving
- Dean Hefford, Crown Relocations
- Leonard Hoyt, Hoyt's International
- Anthony Soward, Brytor International Moving

This committee was established late in 2010 with the primary objective of developing a certification program for international movers. The Canadian Overseas Mover Program evolved – with a code of ethics, a validation process and a logo – to identify a quality international mover in Canada and worldwide. Through their ongoing work, more overseas and domestic international movers are now screened for CAM membership and more resources are available for them on a dedicated section of CAM's website.

This committee first met in early 2011 with the objective of finding ways to convey CAM's message about promoting professionalism in the moving industry to consumers, CAM members and the industry as a whole. Since then, it has been very active in improving CAM's website with new search tools and a user-friendly layout, issuing press releases and improving CAM's communications tools, such as its pamphlets and magazine. Recently, the committee proposed the new complaints-handling process to better monitor and respond to consumer complaints and the enhanced CAM's screening process for membership applications.

■ Membership Committee

- David Ogilvy, Ogilvy & Ogilvy Insurance Brokers – Chair
- Carmen Stang, SIRVA Canada LP
- Terry Krulicki, Globe Moving/Premiere Van Lines
- Michael A. Johnston, Mayflower Canada / United Van Lines (Canada) Ltd.

The membership committee is also one of the original committees struck in 2009. Its primary function is to build CAM's member count – and they've been doing exactly that by promoting CAM and its membership, offering strategies to engage more companies in the industry as members and developing the benefits of membership. Their endeavours have shown concrete results for CAM, with a member count that's grown by over 30% since the 2009 AGM (when it was 245) to about 325 today. With their influence, CAM just secured a new partnership with the Canadian Federation of Independent Business (CFIB) through which CAM members can join the CFIB at a preferred membership fee. The savings generated by this arrangement can more than cover the cost of a CAM membership. CAM is also offering its members the opportunity to earn a free CAM membership by bringing new members on board, under its new 1-2-Free recruitment strategy.

From time-to-time, other challenges present themselves to the board of directors that require a closer review by a small working group. As a result, CAM has established a few ad hoc committees to deal with these short-lived issues. For example, a Complaints Committee will meet to review a serious or persistent complaint involving a CAM member; a Succession Planning Committee is developing a succession plan for the Association administration; an Awards Committee will be reviewing the nominees for CAM's awards and selecting the honorees for them.

CAM's working committees have generated a stream of changes over the last few years that have made it the strong trade Association that it is today. Government recognizes it as voice to be heard. Members are enjoying more benefits than ever before. More suppliers to the industry and overseas movers have joined CAM than ever before. And it's all thanks to the volunteers who commit themselves to building the Association. Well done and thank you!!

At our annual general meeting in October, we will be looking for more members to volunteer for our committees as they are the source of renewal within the Association. ■

Les comités de travail de l'ACD sont à l'origine d'une multitude de changements au cours des dernières années qui en ont fait l'association d'affaires qu'elle est aujourd'hui.

L'ASSOCIATION Canadienne des Déménageurs a évolué, avec au départ un simple rassemblement de compagnies de déménagement et de fournisseurs de l'industrie pour en arriver à une véritable entité à titre de l'association d'affaires pour l'industrie du déménagement au Canada. Cette transition est devenue la voix de l'industrie grâce au travail acharné et au dévouement de ces déménageurs et de ces fournisseurs qui ont offert bénévolement de leur temps et de leur énergie afin d'atteindre les objectifs de l'Association. Mais qui sont ces gens? Que font-ils au nom des membres? Comment ces objectifs sont-ils déterminés?

L'ACD est dirigée par un conseil d'administration, dont les directeurs doivent être membres de l'ACD tel que stipulé dans les règlements de l'ACD. Ces directeurs sont élus par les membres de l'ACD lors de l'assemblée générale annuelle (AGA). Ils représentent les membres de l'ACD partout au Canada et ne sont pas rémunérés. Un comité exécutif composé de cinq directeurs élus par le conseil d'administration supervise les affaires de l'association. Les nominations sont échelonnées de sorte qu'à chaque AGA, environ la moitié des directeurs se retirent afin d'en élire de nouveaux. Ces directeurs administrent les finances de l'ACD et décident des politiques de l'ACD ainsi que de son orientation future.

Les membres de l'ACD sont présentement représentés dans l'Association par un comité exécutif qui se compose de :

- Ted LeLacheur, Western Moving & Storage – Président
- Tom Finlay, AMJ Campbell Van Lines, Vancouver – Vice président
- Perry Thorne, Greg and Sons Moving and Storage – Trésorier
- David Ogilvy, Ogilvy & Ogilvy Insurance Brokers – Secrétaire
- Tom Filgiano, Meldrum the Mover Inc – Président sortant

Les directeurs sont :

- Jim Carney, Rawlinson Moving & Storage Ltd.
- Cam Carswell, Country Wide Moving
- Kirsten Flynn, Premiere International
- Doug Kellough, Salmon's Transfer Ltd.
- Terry Krulicki, Globe Moving/Premiere Van Lines
- Milton Letkeman, Jay's Moving & Storage Ltd.
- James Marshall, East Coast Moving & Warehousing
- Steven Young, Household Movers & Shippers Limited.

Les statuts permettent également la nomination d'une président qui est également directeur et qui s'assure de réaliser les tâches quotidiennes de l'Association tel que requis par les administrateurs. John Levi a assuré ce rôle depuis 11 années.

En 2009, la transition de l'ACD en une force majeure était déjà initiée. Puisque les directeurs étaient impliqués dans une grande variété d'activités sur différents fronts, il a été décidé que des comités de travail étaient requis afin de mieux gérer leurs projets et y faire participer d'autres membres de l'ACD. Le conseil d'administration de l'ACD a créé quatre comités de travail et, au cours des quatre dernières années, ces comités, ainsi que quelques nouveaux, ont identifié des problématiques émergentes, formulé des politiques et développé des stratégies de changement. Chaque comité est présidé par un directeur qui fait rapport de ses activités et de ses propositions au conseil d'administration. Chaque année, lors de l'assemblée générale annuelle de l'ACD, les directeurs soumettent le compte rendu de leur mode de fonctionnement, des activités de leur comité, de leurs réalisations et des défis associés à l'adhésion des membres. Le président participe aussi à chaque comité afin d'aider à l'exécution des décisions.

Voici un profil de chaque comité présentement en fonction – quels en sont les membres et ce qu'ils ont fait au nom de l'Association et de ses membres.

■ Comité de la Conférence

- Tom Finlay, AMJ Campbell Van Lines, Vancouver – Co-président
- Doug Kellough, Salmon's Transfer Ltd. – Co-président
- Jim Carney, Rawlinson Moving & Storage Ltd.
- John Delanty, Kenwood Moving & Storage Inc.
- Tom Filgiano, Meldrum the Mover Inc.
- Leonard Hoyt, Hoyt's International
- James Marshall, East Coast Moving & Warehousing
- John Rausch, Allied Van Lines Canada

Un des quatre premiers comités créés en 2009, le comité de la Conférence a été mis en place afin de planifier la conférence annuelle de l'ACD – en établir le thème, en développer le programme, en embaucher les conférenciers et assurer la promotion de l'événement. Basé sur les réactions positives des participants à chaque année, le comité a su laisser sa marque en mettant sur pied des programmes exceptionnels. Cette année, la conférence de l'ACD, sous le thème de Rassembler le monde, sera tenue à Vancouver du 4 au 6 octobre 2013, conjointement avec la réunion annuelle de l'Association des Déménageurs Internationaux qui se tiendra du 7 au 10 octobre 2013. Vous trouverez plus d'information sur cet événement unique dans ce numéro.

■ Comité International

- Kirsten Flynn, Premiere International – Présidente
- Nate Edward, Starline Overseas Moving
- Dean Hefford, Crown Relocations
- Leonard Hoyt, Hoyt's International
- Anthony Soward, Brytor International Moving

Le comité international a été formé à la fin de l'année 2010 avec pour objectif principal de développer un programme de certification pour les déménageurs internationaux. Le programme canadien des déménageurs outre-mer a évolué – avec un code d'éthique, un processus de validation et un logo – afin d'identifier un déménageur international de qualité, au Canada et dans le monde. Grâce aux travaux en cours, plus de déménageurs internationaux, domestiques et outre-mer sont maintenant validés pour être membres de l'ACD et plus de ressources sont mises à leur disposition dans une section qui leur est dédiée sur le site Web de l'ACD.

■ Comité Internet et Marketing

- Tom Finlay, AMJ Campbell Van Lines, Vancouver – Président
- Carol Davis, Atlas Van Lines (Canada) Ltd.
- Lorne MacInnes, Ferguson Moving & Storage Ltd.
- Marlene Lobelio, United Van Lines (Canada) Ltd.
- John Rausch, Allied Van Lines Canada

Ce comité s'est rencontré pour la première fois au début 2011 avec comme objectif de trouver des moyens de transmettre le message de l'ACD faisant la promotion du professionnalisme de l'industrie du déménagement auprès des consommateurs, des membres de l'ACD et de l'industrie dans son ensemble. Depuis lors, le comité a été très actif dans l'amélioration du site Web de l'ACD avec de nouveaux outils de recherche et une présentation plus conviviale, l'émission de communiqués de presse ainsi que l'amélioration des outils de communication de l'ACD tels ses brochures et son magazine. Récemment, le comité a proposé un nouveau processus de traitement des plaintes afin de mieux gérer et répondre aux plaintes des consommateurs ainsi qu'un processus d'examen amé-

- Carmen Stang, SIRVA Canada LP
- Terry Krulicki, Globe Moving/Premiere Van Lines
- Michael A. Johnston, Mayflower Canada / United Van Lines (Canada) Ltd.

Le comité d'adhésion des membres est également un des comités originaux établis en 2009. Sa fonction première était de développer l'adhésion des membres – et c'est exactement ce qu'ils ont fait en faisant la promotion de l'ACD et de ses membres, en proposant des stratégies afin d'enrôler plus d'entreprises de l'industrie et de développer tous les bénéfices rattachés à une adhésion.

Leurs efforts ont produit des résultats concrets pour l'ACD, avec un nombre de membres en augmentation de plus de 30% depuis l'AGA de 2009 (alors 245) pour en arriver à 325 aujourd'hui. Grâce à leur influence, l'ACD vient tout juste de finaliser un nouveau partenariat avec la Fédération canadienne de l'entreprise indépendante (FCEI) par lequel les membres de l'ACD pourront adhérer à la FCEI à un tarif d'adhésion préférentiel. Les épargnes ainsi générées peuvent couvrir amplement le coût d'adhésion annuel à l'ACD. L'ACD offre également à ses membres l'opportunité d'obtenir une adhésion gratuite à l'ACD en ajoutant de nouveaux membres à l'Association dans le cadre de sa nouvelle stratégie de recrutement 1-2-Gratuit.

De temps à autre, d'autres défis se présentent au conseil d'administration et exigent un examen plus approfondi par un groupe de travail restreint. C'est pourquoi l'ACD a établi quelques comités ad hoc afin de faire face à ces problématiques temporaires. Par exemple, un Comité des plaintes aura une rencontre afin d'examiner une plainte sérieuse ou persistante impliquant un membre de l'ACD; un Comité de planification de la relève développe un programme de relève relatif à l'administration de l'Association; un Comité de sélection pour la remise des prix examinera les nominations relatives aux prix octroyés par l'ACD et sélectionnera les membres méritants.

Les comités de travail de l'ACD sont à l'origine d'une multitude de changements au cours des dernières années qui en ont fait l'association d'affaires qu'elle est aujourd'hui. Le gouvernement la reconnaît comme un porte-parole influent. Ses membres bénéficient d'encore plus de bénéfices que jamais auparavant. De nombreux fournisseurs et déménageurs outre-mer se sont joints à l'ACD. Et tout ceci est grâce aux volontaires qui se sont impliqués afin de développer l'Association. Beau travail et merci!!

À notre assemblée générale annuelle en octobre, nous recherchons encore plus de membres pour être volontaire à l'intérieur de nos comités car ils sont une source de renouveau à l'intérieur même de l'Association. ■ haut de ma liste. Les efforts de l'ACD influent sur mes relations d'affaires avec mes partenaires de l'industrie et mes clients. L'ACD met des efforts considérables pour améliorer la rentabilité de mon entreprise et de tous les déménageurs partout au pays.

Je vois très clairement les avantages d'être membre et j'encourage tous mes collègues déménageurs, d'un océan à l'autre, à joindre l'Association Canadienne des Déménageurs.

Participez à notre conférence annuelle à Vancouver du 4 au 6 octobre 2013 et constatez ce qu'il en est vraiment de notre Association.

Dear fellow CAM member:

I am pleased to share with you some exciting news. Our Association has formed a partnership with the Canadian Federation of Independent Business (CFIB). It's a partnership that will deliver benefits to your bottom line, assistance in managing your business and a voice in all levels of government. Fifty nine of our fellow CAM members already belong to CFIB.

Through our partnership, we will enjoy a reduction in CFIB membership fees that could equal or exceed the cost of your membership in CAM.

CFIB's Partnership Programs can become a profit centre for your business. Their Partnerships provide access to the following benefits:

Financial Benefits

- Highly competitive rates in Canada on credit and debit card transaction fees – the savings from a 0.1 % reduction in fees on $100,000 in sales can add $100 to your bottom line. CFIB members are not bound by a contract.
- Major discounts on bank service charges and term loans, and you can use these available discounts to negotiate lower rates with your current banker.
- The best on-line Payroll Processing discounts available nationally.
- And more affinity programs that have the potential to more than pay for your CFIB membership.

Operational Benefits

- Unlimited access to CFIB Business Counsellors in every province. Use them as your informal HR Department, taking the mystery out of working with employees and the laws governing that relationship.
- Pro-active Information and advice on employment standards, compliance requirements, Workers Compensation and more.
- Extensive Library of Online Courses for you and your employees available 24/7 at no additional cost.

These are just a few examples of how CFIB can improve your bottom line. At the same time, CFIB is working for its 109,000 members and all small businesses to improve the entrepreneurial environment in Canada. CFIB lobbying has generated positive results from the federal government, such as:

- Establishing the Code of Conduct for the credit and debit card industry, which gives you leverage when you deal with your processor. (If you aren't familiar with the Code, call CFIB Business Resources, at 1-888-234-2232. Let them know you are a member of CAM and they will explain how it impacts you.)
- Helping all business owners plan for their retirement by fighting for and achieving the $750,000 capital gains exemption for small business. CFIB also provides a no-charge guide to Succession Planning that can save you significant front-end professional services fees. CFIB Business Resources will send you a copy upon request.
- Ensuring business owners keep more of their retained earnings by achieving lower small business corporate tax rates federally and in every province.

No matter where your business is located in Canada, we all benefit from CFIB's lobbying efforts. Now it's time to put these financial and operational benefits to work for your business. The membership rates are attractive, and the benefits of signing up can be measured on your bottom line. And it's all thanks to your membership in CAM.

For CAM members who currently belong to CFIB - CFIB will contact you by phone to review our partnership and renew your CFIB membership at the usual time.

For CAM members who are not current CFIB members - here's the next step: connect with CFIB from our CAM Members' website at www.mover.net/cfib for more information and how to join CFIB. If you have questions or would like further information, please call CFIB's Rob Wilson at 416-222-8022 or 1-888-234-2232. He is happy to help.

Don't miss out on this exciting opportunity!

Sincerely,

Ted LeLacheur, Chair, Canadian Association of Movers

Madame, Monsieur,

Je suis très heureux de vous annoncer que notre association a conclu un partenariat avec la Fédération canadienne de l'entreprise indépendante (FCEI). Cette entente dont vous pourrez tirer parti pour faire grimper vos profits vous permettra aussi d'obtenir des conseils de gestion pour votre entreprise et de faire entendre votre voix auprès des divers paliers de gouvernements. Cinquante-neuf membres de l'ACD sont déjà membres de la FCEI.

Grâce à ce partenariat, vous pouvez obtenir une réduction sur les cotisations à la FCEI qui pourrait égaler le montant de votre adhésion à l'ACD ou même y être supérieure.

Les avantages énumérés ci-dessous que vous procure le partenariat de la FCEI pourraient vous aider à faire croître votre entreprise :

Avantages sur le plan des finances

- Frais très concurrentiels sur les transactions de cartes de crédit et de débit au Canada. Une réduction de 0,1 % des frais sur des ventes de 100 000 $ peut représenter 100 $ de bénéfices de plus pour vous. Et cela, sans que les membres de la FCEI soient liés par un contrat.
- Rabais substantiels sur les frais bancaires et les prêts à terme; vous pouvez aussi utiliser ces rabais pour négocier des taux plus bas auprès de votre banque ou caisse actuelle.
- Les meilleurs rabais sur les services de traitement de la paie en ligne au Canada.
- Et d'autres programmes d'affinité qui vous permettent d'économiser plus que ce que vous coûte l'adhésion à la FCEI.

Avantages sur le plan de la gestion

- Accès illimité aux conseillers aux entreprises de la FCEI dans chaque province. Ils constituent votre service des RH informel et vous aident à démystifier les relations employeurs-employés et les lois sur la main-d'œuvre.
- Informations et conseils proactifs sur les normes concernant l'emploi, les exigences en matière de conformité, la CSST et plus.
- Vaste gamme de cours en ligne pour vous et vos employés accessibles 24 h sur 24, sans frais additionnels.

Ce ne sont que quelques exemples illustrant la façon dont la FCEI peut vous aider à accroître vos bénéfices. De plus, la FCEI travaille à améliorer l'environnement des affaires au nom de ses 109 000 membres, propriétaires de PME, et l'ensemble des petites entreprises du Canada. Les représentations de la FCEI ont incité le gouvernement fédéral à adopter de bonnes mesures, par exemple :

- Création du Code de conduite destiné à l'industrie canadienne des cartes de crédit et de débit, lequel vous donne du poids lorsque vous négociez avec votre fournisseur de service de traitement. (Si vous ne connaissez pas le Code, contactez le service des Ressources aux entreprises de la FCEI au 1 888 234-2232. Dites-leur que vous êtes membre de l'ACD et on vous expliquera comment le Code peut vous aider.
- Augmentation de l'exonération cumulative des gains en capital à 750 000 $ pour aider les propriétaires d'entreprise à planifier leur retraite – victoire obtenue après une lutte ardue pour les PME. La FCEI fournit aussi gratuitement un Guide sur la planification de la relève qui peut vous permettre d'économiser de lourds frais d'ouverture de dossier. Pour recevoir ce guide, il suffit d'en faire la demande auprès du service des Ressources aux entreprises.
- Baisse des taux d'imposition pour les PME au niveau fédéral et dans toutes les provinces afin que les propriétaires d'entreprise puissent conserver une plus grande partie de leurs bénéfices.

Peu importe où votre entreprise est située au Canada, le travail de représentation de la FCEI profite à tous. Il est temps maintenant de mettre ces avantages financiers et opérationnels au service de votre entreprise. Les cotisations sont raisonnables et les avantages de votre adhésion se traduisent en argent sonnante. Tout cela, grâce à votre adhésion à l'ACD.

Si vous êtes déjà membre de la FCEI, celle-ci vous contactera par téléphone pour discuter de votre adhésion et la renouveler à la date d'échéance. Pour les membres de l'ACD qui ne sont pas déjà membres de la FCEI et souhaitent le devenir, voici la marche à suivre : allez à www.mover.net/fcei pour en savoir plus et adhérer à la FCEI.

Pour toute question, n'hésitez pas à contacter Rob Wilson de la FCEI au 416 222-8022 ou au 1 888 234-2232. Il sera heureux de vous aider.

Ne manquez pas cette excellente offre!

Sincères salutations,

Ted LeLacheur, Président du conseil d'administration, Association canadienne des déménageurs

CANADIAN ASSOCIATION OF MOVERS'
2013 ANNUAL CONFERENCE

Bringing the World Together

Friday, October 4, 2013 (5:00 pm) –
Sunday, October 6, 2013 (Noon)

River Rock Casino Hotel and Convention Centre, Richmond, British Columbia

The Canadian Association of Movers (CAM) invites you to join us at our 2013 Annual Conference where the Canadian moving industry will come together to network, attend business sessions and honour colleagues. This year promises to be a milestone event for CAM, as we link our conference with the 2013 Annual Meeting of the International Association of Movers. Together, these two events offer our global moving community a unique opportunity to network with international colleagues and to learn about the domestic and international moving industry in Canada – in a spectacular Canadian setting.

CAM's 2013 program – which offers sessions that involve a broad stream of key players in the moving industry – will appeal to both Canadian movers and our international colleagues:

- A panel of senior association representatives will discuss the global moving industry and the roles that national and international moving associations play in the industry;
 - Two senior executives from a world-wide international moving company will speak on the current and future challenges of international moving;
 - A panel of key suppliers to the Canadian moving industry will discuss domestic and international moving insurance, and how it affects moving companies and their customers;
 - A panel of executives from Canada's major van lines will address the nature of the Canadian moving industry and its future;

International Association of Movers (IAM) Annual Meeting
Monday, October 7, 2013 –
Thursday, October 10, 2013
Vancouver Trade & Convention Centre,
Vancouver, British Columbia

- An economist from a major Canadian financial institution will provide a forecast of the domestic and global economic climate specifically for household goods movers;
- A panel comprised of moving operations experts will discuss how to set the right expectations for consumers, so that both movers and their customers are contractually satisfied; and
- A trade show featuring suppliers of the latest products and services for the moving industry

The conference schedule will afford attendees with lots of opportunity to network with domestic and global partners. On Friday evening, CAM will host an informal get-together for attendees to mingle and compare experiences. The business sessions will run from Saturday morning to noon on Sunday with lots of breaks in-between so colleagues can connect. The trade show will be open throughout the conference.

On Saturday evening, CAM will honour distinguished members in the Canadian moving industry at its Annual Awards Dinner.

What else do you need to know?

- Members of IAM and CAM can register for both conferences at member rates.
- Nominations are open for CAM's awards; forms can be obtained from www.mover.net/movers/about/awards.htm.
- Updates about the conference will be issued regularly. Watch for the conference flyer that will be distributed shortly.
 - The hotel will accept registrations at the special room rate for the "Canadian Association of Movers conference" until September 4. Check out the hotel at www.riverrock.com or call 1-866-748-3718.
 - Bring your family – there's a lot to do and see in "Beautiful BC".

See you in Vancouver!

CAM ON LinkedIn

The Canadian Association of Movers has established two groups on www.Linkedin.com. The groups are intended to help members communicate with other members of the Canadian moving industry. You can exchange ideas, concerns and opportunities. We can announce changes in rules, regulations and legislation in a timely fashion. We can ask questions of our fellow movers about any moving topic and receive expert opinions from across the industry.

- Canadian Movers Network
- Canadian Overseas Movers Network

The Canadian Movers Network is open to all members of the Association; the Canadian Overseas Movers Network is open to international mover members. The opportunity to use these facilities is only limited by our imaginations.

To join the group, you must be a CAM member and a member of www.Linkedin.com. Membership in LinkedIn is free. Once you have your membership, go to LinkedIn's "Groups" link and click on the Groups Directory. Search for Canadian Movers. Click on the Join Group button and we will include you in the group as quickly as possible.

L'ACD SUR LinkedIn

L'Association Canadienne des Déménageurs a établi deux réseaux sur www.Linkedin.com. Les réseaux permettront à nos membres de communiquer avec d'autres membres de l'industrie canadienne du déménagement. Vous pouvez y partager des idées, des problématiques et des opportunités. Nous pouvons y annoncer des changements dans les règles, les règlements et les lois de manière rapide et efficace. Nous pouvons y poser des questions de nos membres déménageurs relatives à tout sujet pertinent au déménagement et recevoir des opinions d'experts provenant de toute l'industrie.

- Réseau « Canadian Movers »
- Réseau « Canadian Overseas Movers »

Le réseau « Canadian Movers » est offert à tous les membres de l'Association; le réseau « Canadian Overseas Movers » est offert à tous les membres déménageurs internationaux. Les opportunités liées à l'utilisation de ces réseaux ne sont restreintes que par les limites de notre imagination.

Pour vous joindre au réseau, vous devez être un membre de l'ACD et un membre de www.Linkedin.com. L'adhésion à LinkedIn est gratuite. Une fois inscrit, allez au lien des « réseaux » LinkedIn et cliquez sur le Répertoire des réseaux. Recherchez « Canadian Movers ». Cliquez sur le bouton pour vous joindre au réseau et nous vous inclurons dans le réseau dès que possible.
